POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT
ASSISTANT/ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF
ENVIRONMENTAL & OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH/SAFETY

POSITION – As part of its strategic plan, Oregon State University (OSU) will build on its existing strengths in the core disciplines of public health and human sciences by hiring one new faculty with expertise in Environmental and Occupational Health/Safety to establish a CEPH accredited College of Public Health and Human Sciences (CPHHS). This is a full-time (1.00 FTE), 9-mo.tenure-track appointment for Assistant/Associate Professor of Environmental and Occupational Health/Safety.

PROFESSIONAL QUALIFICATIONS – Qualifications include a doctoral degree in Public Health, Environmental Health Sciences or related field and training and experience that fulfill accreditation requirements for core public health faculty in environmental health sciences. Candidate should demonstrate the ability to develop and conduct an independent research program to address public health issues. A demonstrable commitment to high teaching standards is required. To view a full listing of required qualifications see the link below. We are interested in a candidate with a research program that aligns with the mission of our college. Although all areas of environmental public health will be considered, we are especially interested in candidates with expertise in public health toxicology, exposure assessment, and in emerging environmental health issues (e.g., built environment, gene-environment interactions, human biomarker-disease research, and health effects of climate change). We are also seeking candidates with research programs that focus on under-served and international populations. A demonstrable commitment to promoting and enhancing diversity and ability to work collaboratively across disciplines is preferred.

RESPONSIBILITIES – Responsibilities include establishing an independent research program through external funding, advancing the University's research agenda in the area of Environmental and Occupational Health/Safety, assisting in the establishment of a CEPH accredited College of Public Health and Human Sciences, teaching undergraduate and graduate courses, advising graduate students, and providing service to the practice community and the field of public health.

SALARY – Salary is commensurate with qualification and experience. Benefits package includes several options for health/dental/life insurance, retirement, and tuition reduction program (some restrictions apply).

COLLEGE, UNIVERSITY AND COMMUNITY – The College is located within OSU's Health Sciences Division along with the OSU Colleges of Pharmacy and Veterinary Medicine. We are currently part of the collaborative Oregon Master of Public Health (OMPH) Program. Our accredited MPH degree combines broad training in public health with specific training in six specialty tracks: Epidemiology; Biostatistics; Health Management and Policy; Environment, Safety and Health; International Health; and Health Promotion. OSU is the only institution in Oregon that offers a PhD in Public Health. Please visit CHHS and departmental web sites at <http://health.oregonstate.edu/>.

OSU is one of only two American universities to hold the Land-, Sea-, Sun-, and Space-Grant designations and is the only Oregon institution recognized for its "very high research activity" (RU/VH) by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. OSU is comprised of 11 academic colleges with strengths in natural resources, earth dynamics and sustainability, life sciences, entrepreneurship and the arts and sciences. OSU has facilities and/or programs in every county in the state, including 12 regional experiment stations, 41 county extension offices, a branch campus in Bend, a major marine science center in Newport, and a range of programs and facilities in Portland. OSU is Oregon's largest public research university, conducting more than 60 percent of the research funded throughout the state's university system. OSU has an institution-wide commitment to diversity, multiculturalism, and community. We actively engage in recruiting and retaining a diverse workforce and student body that includes members of historically underrepresented groups. We strive to build and sustain a welcoming and supportive campus environment. OSU provides outstanding leadership opportunities for people interested in promoting and enhancing diversity, nurturing creativity, and building community. Please visit OSU and web site: <http://oregonstate.edu/>.

OSU is located in Corvallis, a community of 53,000 situated in the Willamette Valley between Portland and Eugene. Ocean beaches, lakes, rivers, forests, high desert, the rugged Cascade and Coast Ranges, and the urban amenities of the Portland metropolitan area are all within a 100-mile drive of Corvallis.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES – To see specific position announcements, job descriptions and requirements, and to apply, go to <https://jobs.oregonstate.edu> posting #0006356 The position is open until filled. To ensure first consideration, applications should be received by November 15, 2011.
